

Democrats Split, Rump Convention Held

Approximately 60 delegates bolted the Randall County Democratic convention Saturday night. A "rump" convention was held in the Commissioner's Courtroom of the courthouse.

Walkout of the dissatisfied delegates came following presentation of a list of delegates for the state convention.

To the observer the split was between liberal and conservative forces at the county level.

The bolting delegates were outnumbered from the beginning of the party convention when David Matthis was elected permanent chairman of the convention.

The so-called "right of center" group backed Marion Bruce for convention chairman. Bruce won the Randall County Democratic chairman position in a recent election.

Before the bolt, delegates voted Matthis as chairman and Jack Ritchie of Amarillo as secretary of the convention.

Immediately before delegates walked out of the meeting, O'Brien Thompson, floor leader for the Bruce followers, spoke to the group.

"There are two sides of thought concerning the role of government. One group believes in limited government with responsibility on the individual.

"The other philosophy is an all-powerful government that meets the needs of the people, and the people become subservient to the government.

"If both sides become extreme, this leads to chaotic conditions. Ten per cent of the people believe in one extreme and 10 per cent believe in the other side. But we represent 80 per cent of the Americans who are in the middle," Thompson said.

"The people of Randall County elected Marion Bruce county chairman of the Democratic Party. But I submit that the people named to the various committees at this convention and the people's names that appear on the list of delegates to the state convention do not represent the feelings and desires of the people of Randall County," he continued.

Thompson concluded his talk with the request for those interested in staying "right-of-center" bolt the convention and meet downstairs.

"We of Texas have given a vote of confidence to Governor John Connally. We have voiced that we want to stay right of center. I feel we recognize that due to the fact of numbers, we have a one-sided position. But the facts still are that the people of Randall County have elected Marion Bruce, and they want his leadership.

"We feel that the action of this convention is not in the direction for Mr. Bruce or Governor Connally. Therefore, I would suggest that those wishing to follow Marion Bruce and endorse John Connally bolt this convention and meet outside,"

Thompson said.

An official of the rumped-convention said reason for the bolt came following apparent disagreement over who delegates would follow as head of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

He said certain factors at the convention supported Senator Ralph Yarborough as head of the Texas delegation. He said "rump" convention supported Governor John Connally as chairman of the Texas group to the national convention.

David Matthis said his group is firmly behind Governor John Connally. He said the only resolutions the group passed came from the governor's office.

Matthis said there is no likelihood that the delegation he heads would support a coalition leadership of the Texas delegation to the national convention with Connally and Senator Ralph Yarborough sharing that leadership.

Connally has been somewhat concerned over Randall County's delegation. He called a representative in Canyon as late as last Saturday morning in an effort to determine the direction of political winds here.

Marion Bruce received a telegram from Connally asking support from the Randall County Democratic Party for Connally as Texas delegation leader.

Following the walkout of the conservative delegation, Jack Ritchie told those remaining they were the "...true democrats" of Randall County.

"That speech (by Thompson) made me a little mad. I don't understand how they can justify their claim of patriotism. In the county convention four years ago, that same group was able to pass a resolution condemning everything the government was trying to do," he said.

"Then a little later this same group, through a chamber of commerce resolution, asked the government to conduct a census every five years rather than every 10 years because, they said, they needed it for their business.

"Just because we disagree with them economically doesn't mean we have any lack of patriotism.

"Lyndon Johnson is my man—not Goldwater."

Concluding his short talk, Ritchie said, "The sentiment expressed here by the group that remains may not reflect the sentiment of the total vote of Randall County, as charged by Mr. Thompson.

"But it does reflect the feeling of the county's Democrats."

Only two resolutions were adopted by the convention. The first was expressing the deep sorrow of Randall County residents at the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

The second called for the Randall County delegation to the state convention to be bound under the unit rule and under the leadership of Governor John Connally. It also called for support of President Lyndon Johnson.

Delegates selected to attend the state conventions in Houston and Dallas include David Matthis, Mrs. Ellen Mills, Jay Taylor, Lawrence Hagy, Stanley Lair, George Dowlen, George Grogan, Wm. Q. Boyce,

Petition Status Undetermined

Final disposition of a petition calling for an election on bond issues to build a second Randall County airport is in question.

The petition, which was signed by 860 county residents and presented to the court last month, was referred to the county tax assessor-collector's office for verification of names.

A spokesman in the tax office said that between a third and a half of the names either failed to meet the requirements for legal signing or had appeared twice on the paper.

This fact was verified by the county clerk's office, which received the petition from the tax office.

Tommy Lair, county clerk, said his office had told Judge Wayland Angel that the petition had been received from the tax office and that they were told to include the petition in the Commissioners' Court file in the clerk's office.

"None of the commissioners nor the judge has requested that the corrected petition be presented to them as yet," Lair said Tuesday. "I think I will probably ask them what to do with it when they meet next Monday just to get the responsibility off my back."

Judge Angel said Tuesday that the petition had never been re-submitted to the court for any action.

"We probably won't take any action on the petition until we see how a couple of things which might have a bearing on our building an airport comes out," Judge Angel said Tuesday. "If we decided to bring a bond issue to a vote, we would probably wait until the general election in November anyway."

Whether or not the loss of ineligible names would invalidate the petition is also ques-

City Rates For WTSU Adjusted

Canyon city commission Monday night passed an ordinance revamping city's system of water and sewer charges to West Texas State University.

Until now the charge to the university has been $2 per building and 15 cents per fixture per month.

Under the new arrangement, the charge will be $1.45 per capita per year based upon official enrollment at the university. Initial enrollment figure to be used is 3500.

The arrangement will be reviewed by the commission at the end of one year and then each two years thereafter.

Bill Davis, M. B. Sims and Tom Brasher were appointed to the city board of equalization.

Canyon's Oldest House Removed

This old house at 511 Sixteenth Street is one of Canyon's landmarks. Boone McClure says it is one of the oldest houses in the city. It is being torn down to make space for a parking lot for Neblett Hospital. The R. E. Foster family lived in the house for several years. Little is known of its history. The News would appreciate any information that can be supplied about it. Mrs. Ruth Gidden says it was constructed with square-headed nails.

Jurors Chosen For Zilka Trial As Woman Hopes For Marriage

"We're going to get married if he gets off."

This unusual bit of society news was announced Wednesday morning in the district courtroom here.

The prospective bridegroom was in the prisoner's dock charged with raping the 3-year-old daughter of the prospective bride.

Facing charges and possible death in the electric chair is Tony Zilka, 32, who is charged with raping a 3-year-old girl on a farm about a mile south of Canyon early in January.

CHS Cast Wins First At State

Canyon High School one-act play cast won first in Class AA state competition last week end in Austin.

Canyon's play, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Foster, won highest in the state for the first time in the school's history.

Cast members performed scenes from "Othello" by Shakespeare.

William A. Moore, senior at Canyon High School, was named best actor in Class AA and received the Samuel French Award as best performer in that division.

Moore received a $500 scholarship presented by the University of Texas drama department and a gold medal for his best actor recognition.

Zilka showed no concern as Assistant District Attorney George Dowlen qualified jurors on the death penalty.

The mother of the tot Zilka is charged with molesting was five rows back in the courtroom. Occasionally the defendant would look back at her and they would smile at each other.

Sign-up Deadline Tomorrow

Friday is the deadline for signing up for the 1964 USDA Wheat Program, according to Jerrell Shaw, manager of the Randall County ASCS office.

Sign up in the program began April 28.

Randall County has 1014 wheat farms for which a total wheat allotment of 120,518 acres has been established.

ASCS office records through last Friday showed that 456 Randall County farmers, involving 75,680 acres, had signed up to participate. These farmers have designated 10,142 acres as diverted acres to be devoted to soil conserving uses, Shaw reported.

These figures indicate that approximately 49 percent of Randall County wheat producers intend to participate in the 1964 program.

For complete details on the wheat program, producers should contact the Randall County ASCS office in Canyon.

Warning Issued

Canyon people were warned this week through city pharmacists against following a nationally circulated magazine's instructions in connection with use of methyl alcohol.

Following is essentially the text of a letter received by local druggists from the Texas State Board of Pharmacy.

"Commissioner Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration tonight issued a warning to readers of the nationally distributed magazine 'Escapade' not to follow directions on pages 15 and 16 of the August 1964 issue which is already on the news stands calling for the dissolving of the pages in methyl alcohol (wood alcohol) and drinking the resultant concoction for hallucinogenic effect.

"Mr. Larrick said that methyl alcohol, commonly known as wood alcohol, is a very poisonous substance, the first effect of which is usually blindness.

"He said that small quantities of wood alcohol are capable of causing death. The deadly directions on pages 15 and 16 state that 'The ink used in printing this issue has been mixed with diphenylpicloroamyl-2-benz-oate, a powerful hallucinogen. Dissolve any two pages in methyl alcohol and drink the results.

Mrs. Lee Foster, center, is shown holding the state championship plaque which was presented to the Canyon High School one-act play cast last week in Austin. William Moore, standing, was named best actor in Class AA and received the Samuel French acting award for his performance. Rose Ellen Parker, left, was on the all-star all-state cast list and Rob Barnard, right, was on the honorable mention list. Mrs. Foster directed the play which received high praise at the state level.

Mrs. Binning's Baby

Mrs. Ella Mae Binning's baby boy, which was born last Thursday at Neblett Hospital, lets out a healthy bawl while being held by Mrs. Hugh Kello, vocational nurse. Mrs. Binning faces charges of murder with malice and will be returned to Randall County Jail in a few days. The baby is in boarding care under direction of Amarillo-Potter County Child Welfare.

From The CANYON RIM

We have received one letter suggesting a course of action in providing something for the little girls of this community. It was from David Pittard suggesting a tennis program. George Ritter says a Kiwanis Club sponsored girls softball program tried in 1961 and 1962 fell through for lack of interest on the part of both girls and parents. Hatcher Brown supervised the program.

We wish a group of interested people would get together soon to discuss some plans. We hope to see a permanent day camp site for Canyon Girl Scouts in the very near future. However, there must be a plan. Anything can be accomplished with a plan. Little can be done without one.

Rhett Plank, Canyon student at West Texas State University, introduced a resolution at the Republican county convention Saturday night calling for the Texas constitution to be rewritten.

We think Rhett has something. The Texas constitution was adopted in 1875 after two reconstruction constitutions had been discarded. Amendments since that time have made it so unwieldy that it actually serves little purpose as a guideline for lawmakers.

It would take a speed reader several days to browse through the Texas constitution. Of the 50 state constitutions, it is third in length.

Louisiana has the longest and California is second.

Under the present Texas constitution an amendment is required if, for instance, Randall County wants to form an airport district.

The entire state must vote on a strictly local matter.

Consequently, the constitution is amended yearly. This is tedious and costly. In 1962 when 21 amendments were submitted to referendum, the publication cost alone came to well over $1 million.

Just reading one of these amendments, couched in legal phraseology, is a laborious task for a layman. Understanding some of them without the benefit of a law degree is well nigh impossible.

The political scene was fairly serene again this week after a little turbulence Saturday night at the county Democratic convention.

There was a rumpled convention and now it looks like two Democratic delegations will be going to the Democratic state convention riding the same LBJ-Connelly bandwagon.

One delegation will be led by Marion Bruce, county chairman-elect, and the other by David Matthis, incumbent county chairman.

There was a story out that the Matthis' group would back state party leadership of Senator Ralph W. Yarborough over that of Governor John Connally.

Matthis says his delegation will stand firmly behind the leadership of the governor and will not go for even so much as a dual Connally-Yarborough leadership of the state's delegation to the national convention.

The Bruce delegation is similarly committed.

It will be interesting to see which delegation gets seated in Houston.

Matthis noted this week that in his six years of service as county Democratic chairman, this is the first time his name has been included on the county's slate of delegates to the state convention. He said he once served as an alternate.

A salute to Mrs. Lee Foster and her one-act play cast. Mrs. Foster and her group has brought another honor to Canyon High School and the Canyon community.

The magnificent thing about talent such as that possessed by Mrs. Foster is that it is passed on to the younger generation and thence to others in perpetuity. Thus one humble teacher may affect the mainstream of history as much as some decorated general or statesman.

Youngsters all over Canyon were already limbering up their casting arms earlier this week in preparation for the annual Jaycee Fish Rodeo, Saturday at the Doug Rittenberry farm. Nick Dodson, left, gives some pointers to Cindy Hair, 3 1/2, while nine-year-old Gary Hair gives a first lesson to brother Tim, 11/2. The kids are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hair.

Fish Rodeo Is Saturday

Junior Chamber of Commerce Fish Rodeo for Canyon youngsters is Saturday.

Fishing will begin at 9 a.m. on the Doug Rittenberry farm and will end at 3 p.m.

Six trophies will be presented following the judging which begins at 3:30 p.m. Two trophies will be given in each of the age divisions including 0-6 years, 7-9 years, and 10-13 years. Trophy winners will be judged for having caught the largest fish by weight and the largest number of fish. If two persons have caught the same amount of fish in a division, the prize will be awarded according to the weight of the fish.

Members of the Jaycees will be on hand to supervise the event, and parents are urged to attend if possible to help with their children.

Eddie Knowles, owner and operator of the Canyon Bowl, will furnish a bus to take those children to the fish rodeo who might not have a way. The bus will leave from the square promptly at 9 a.m. and

3 Teams Win In Babe Ruth Games

Action in the Babe Ruth League this week was between six teams of 13-15 year old ball players with the Fannin Panthers, the Canyon Cardinals, and the Canyon Giants taking wins in the three games.

Saturday afternoon Fannin Panthers under the guidance of Warner, winning pitcher, took a 15-7 game over the Happy Yankees. Pitching for the losing team was Vernon.

In an 8-5 tilt, the Canyon Cardinals took a win over the Pirates. Barnes was winning pitcher for the Cardinals after replacing Sunderman who held the game until the last inning.

Sherman Smith and David Rossi pitched for the losing team. Stanley Hicks, third baseman and shortstop, was an outstanding defensive player for the Cardinals.

Canyon's Giants won a 4-3 squeaker from the Umbarger Colts in play last week. Gary Prichard was the Giants starting pitcher and Bill Anthony placed the winning toss after hitting a double run. Other players who were outstanding for the Giants were Danny White, as catcher, and Bobby Thrasher for left field position.

Scheduled for Saturday, May 16, is a 1:00 p.m. game between the Giants of Canyon and the Fannin Panthers. A third game scheduled for the weekend is between the White Sox and the Cardinals, time and place for the game has not been set.

Bryant Speaker At Jaycee Meet

Dewey Bryant, city manager for Canyon, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Bryant discussed the formation, extension, and reformation of various governments concluding his program with description of his own job here as related to the local government officials.

Letter To The Editor

The Canyon News Canyon, Texas

Dear Mr. Martin:

I noted an interesting comment in your editorial ("Canyon Rim", May 7, 1964) about the fact that the girls in Canyon have little to do in the summer in comparison with the boys. Why not teach them to play tennis?

Canyon has eight tennis courts: two at the High School and six at the University. These are vacant almost all of the time in the summer. To hire someone to teach the girls the proper methods about how to play the game and to supervise the program would cost money, but it would be quite small compared to the amount spent on baseball. Furthermore, those who learn to play tennis well will have the opportunity of competing in the Interscholastic League with other schools. This program would give them advantage.

At the end of the program, a town tournament for those who participated could be held with medals for the winners.

I hope that this suggestion will be considered by all who are interested in giving the girls in Canyon something fun and beneficial to do during the summer months.

Very truly yours,
David Pittard

Focus Week Observed By Church

'Focus Week' for Girl's Auxiliary activities at the Calvary Baptist Church are being observed this week with a series of special programs and activities planned to present GA projects and purpose to the public.

Sunday, the GA junior high and senior high intermediate groups sat as a body at the morning services and were recognized in the service, along with an insert in the church bulletin.

Mrs. D. C. Lindley, G. A. director, and other assistant directors have sponsored and co-ordinated the GA activities for the week.

Wednesday evening, the three GA divisions presented the evening service at Calvary Baptist Church with readings, music, and other program points emphasizing the purposes of Girl's Auxiliary local and mission work.

Following the service, G.A. members were honored with a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church with Woman's Missionary Union members as hosts.

Visiting last week with Mrs. W. G. Rose and son, Kelly, were J. H. Rose from Los Angeles, California and John Schramm of Flagstaff, Arizona. J. H. is Mrs. Rose's son and John is her son-in-law.

Mrs. Josie A. Combs had as her guest on Mother's Day her son, J. W. Atkins, and wife Madeline from Big Spring along with other relatives from Amarillo and area.

Other guests visiting with Mrs. Combs were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barker, the C. V. Lowes, and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins and daughter, Carol Ann, all of Amarillo.

We ducked our head this week and quickly wrote an apology to dear Mother...not for forgetting Mother's Day, but for not reaching our Mother on her special day.

A gift was purchased, a letter written and a phone call made, but none of these thoughts helped brighten her day.

Saturday morning we came to work and realized the letter had not been mailed and the gift was still on the desk...exactly where we had left it two days earlier.

After a brief conference concerning what should be done we decided to call home Sunday. Knowing the other two daughters would call also, we were going to be the first one of the day...but we missed again.

Daddy answered the phone and --well--the two of us had a wonderful 15-minute talk.

Perhaps Mother will be home on Father's Day and we'll wish Mother's Day thoughts then.

However, the lowest blow came Monday morning when a large package arrived on the doorstep.

We learned why Mothers are honored by their children.

Mothers are the only people who will send a gift thanking you for making "their" day so special.

Needless to say we quickly sent the package and letter off...and even added a few words of thanks.

Spring band concert is Sunday afternoon and three Canyon bands will perform.

Special tribute will be paid to the graduating seniors of the high school band in this last concert of their high school years.

Two workers with the Peace Corps will be in Canyon this week talking at West Texas State University and various civic organizations.

We are rather anxious to talk with them about the results of their work and their plans for future experience in the Peace Corps.

Canyon High School youngsters have won another honor, not only for their school but also for themselves.

The nine students in the one-act play cast, Mrs. Lee Foster and Claiborn Crain, stage manager, came home from Austin with the largest and most impressive trophy given at the state contest.

These youngsters, under the direction of Mrs. Foster, were rated best at state, pointing another finger at the fact that CHS students work hard in their activities. Their efforts pay off in rewards far greater than merely the trophy.

When students win by putting forth their very best, they develop habits of expertness which will remain with them throughout the years of future growth and learning.

We send our congratulations to the cast, knowing they put forth their best.

Local Boy Involved In Accident

Julian Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Berry of Canyon, was injured slightly in a two-car collision at Henrietta, Texas Sunday evening.

Berry, who graduated from Canyon High School last spring, was the driver of a 1961 vehicle which was involved in an almost head-on collision with a late model foreign-made car east of Wichita Falls on Highway 287.

Berry and his passengers, Jerry Perry 19 of Amarillo, Sandra Vaughn 18 of Hereford, Barbara Magar 19 of Dallas and Mary Kay Bruner 18 of Terrell, were not seriously injured in the accident.

Two Fort Sill, Oklahoma servicemen were killed in the other car, which turned over and caught fire after the collision.

The Berry car was enroute to North Texas State College near Denton when the accident occurred. Berry is a freshman student at the college, his passengers were also students at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Berry have returned to Canyon after hearing word of their son's accident and making a trip to Henrietta.

St. Ann's Church Plans Dedication This Sunday

The new Saint Ann's Catholic Church in Canyon will be dedicated during a special mass at 4 p.m. Sunday at the church site just east of town.

Bishop Lawrence DeFalco of the Amarillo Diocese will offer the mass, which will be followed by a banquet for the parish and guests at 6 p.m. The banquet will be held in the West Cafeteria on the WTSU campus with John Henry Dietz of Canyon serving as master of ceremonies.

The dedication will open the door on some of the most original and significant religious art to be seen in the Southwest, according to the Rev. George Sallaway, pastor.

The objects of art include a six-foot copper enameled figure of the patron saint of the conquistadores, who first passed through this area in the 16th Century or earlier. Complementing the figure are two eight-foot panoramas of Palo Duro Canyon as it might have appeared at that time. The work was done by Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department at WT.

Also included are two 20-foot, oil-on-linen panels depicting the Stations of the Cross, based on the crucifixion of Christ.

Adorning the front of the all-concrete structure is a large mosaic of the church's patron saint, Saint Ann, with her daughter, Mary, and the Christ child.

The Stations of the Cross were done by one of Dr. Caballero's former students, Mrs. Marcella Chandler Blomberg of Midland. The mosaic was done by Edmund Demers, associate professor of art at Clarke College in Dubuque, Iowa. Demers is a noted consultant on liturgical art.

Jurors. . .

Mrs. Zilka, a brunette, was dressed in a sports jacket, candy stripe blouse and flaming red slacks. Occasionally she dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief. Her chain smoked king-sized cigarettes.

Zilka was dressed in a white sports shirt and dark trousers. His brow is almost constantly furrowed. His hair is short and curly. His lips are compressed most of the time. He is tall with stooped shoulders and has large hands and long arms. He is pale from 5 months in Randall County jail.

Mrs. Zilka, this is the name she prefers, said she and Tony lived together three years and they have a 1-year-old daughter.

She said she believes Zilka is innocent and they intend to get married as soon as he gets out of jail.

"I visited him last week and I intend to visit him today," she declared.

About Tony's past she said: "I know he's been in jail before but I don't know whether he has ever been to the pen."

She said Tony was always good to her and the children. She said she has never been divorced from her first husband but that a divorce proceeding is on file in Oldham County at the present time.

"I'm not going to run away from anything," Mrs. Zilka declared. "Now I want to go and talk to Tony."

Five jurors selected include W. W. Williams, a geologist; Milton Tyson, Phillips Petroleum Company employee; James Walker, oil editor of The Amarillo Globe-Times; Norman De Graffenreid, an Humble Oil Company geologist; O. L. Thompson, employed with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. All five jurors are from South Amarillo.

Williams has three children, one of them a three year old girl. Tyson has three children. One is a daughter, 4 years old.

Walker has two children. One is a two year old daughter. De Graffenreid has four children. One is a two year old daughter. Thompson has no children.

Up to noon Wednesday the state had exercised three preliminary challenges and the defense two. Each side is allowed 15 such challenges.

One prospective juror was excused because of his age. Three were challenged because of fixed opinions and eight because of conscientious scruples against inflicting the death penalty.

Testimony in the case was expected to begin some time late Wednesday or Thursday morning.

gical art.

According to Father Sallaway, the three separate objects are the more significant because of their differences in medium, style and effect. All three are large, dominating the various spaces of wall they occupy.

All fit into the theme of the church and complement the people and the area, he says.

The structure is perhaps the first Catholic church in the country to be constructed along the contemporary lines set forth in the recent Ecumenical Council.

Says Dr. Caballero, "I think the architectural plan is quite beautiful--indigenous to the Southwest, and corresponding to the low, flat plains."

"The church is the sort of thing you would have seen in the Southwest if you had come through in the 17th Century when mission churches dotted the plains."

The altar in the new church was donated by the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation in memory of the late President John Kennedy.

A new rectory, along the same architectural lines and of the same basic concrete materials, was built immediately to the south of the new church. Father Sallaway was in the process of moving in earlier this week.

Finishing touches to the new buildings were added by members of the parish. For the past two Saturdays the men of the church have been working to build a fence along the east portion of the property and to erect a carport for the rectory. Additional work is to be done this weekend prior to the dedication, according to Father Sallaway.

Fandangle . . .

(Continued from Page 1) be used as extras in group shots, but that horsemen would also be used. The extent of casting, he pointed out, will depend on the number of costumes available.

Nail, himself, will be the only professional showman connected with the production.

"We have been producing this show on and off in Albany since 1938," he said. "During all that time we have used purely non-professional non-paid volunteers."

Bringing the show to Canyon for production in the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheater is the first time the show has been moved out of Albany on a large scale.

"We have taken samplers to a few other towns and provided entertainment and shows for some groups outside of Albany, but this is the first time we have tried moving the whole thing," said Nail.

So far, things have progressed "surprisingly easily."

"I imagine our main problem is going to be trying to coordinate the activities of so many people out from town. Everything else, though, is fine so far. We may have a little trouble getting our lighting set up just the way we want it, but I don't think that will be a great problem," he pointed out.

Nail is a long-time resident of Albany. Born in Wolf City, Tex., he was graduated from Albany High School, then went on the Lawrenceville Prep School in New Jersey before attending Princeton. At Princeton he majored in English and French.

"That sounds a little funny, but they seem to pride themselves at Princeton on not having a drama department," he said.

After graduation, he served as director of the Fort Worth Little Theater for two years, then took a similar position with the Abilene Little Theater. He returned to Albany in 1937 to write. A year later, the first production of "Fandangle" went before the public.

"We had our problems, of course, but all the people of the community get behind it. Albany has a population of only about 2,500, and during the three nights the show runs, we usually have in excess of 6,000 people in the audience. It's quite a job to find that many places for them to stay and to eat. It takes help from just about everybody."

After spending almost all day Monday at the amphitheater in the canyon, Nail had nothing but praise for the location.

"It's wonderful. We hope we can light up the whole background in order to get even more atmosphere into the play."

Performances of the show are scheduled June 11, 12 and 13.

Goldwater. . .

It voted for rescinding Public Law 87297, sometimes known as the Arms Control and Disarmament Act, and to abolish its agency.

The convention voted to oppose the Javits Bill, a form of medicare. It passed a resolution in opposition to the Civil Rights Bill as represented by the House of Representatives.

Randall Republicans urged that foreign aid be withheld from countries which have seized American property and/or final termination of foreign aid altogether.

Investigation of the State Department by Congress was sanctioned. A resolution was passed calling for efforts to remove control from agriculture. The convention passed a resolution calling for the prohibiting of deficit spending except in time of war declared by congress.

Art Show Brochures In Mail

Brochures describing the 1964 Palo Duro Art Show here in August have been mailed to colleges and news media.

Heaviest distribution of the brochures has been in the five-state area, but some have also been sent to institutions across the country, according to Olive Bugbee, a member of the committee for the show.

Named as jury members to review the art to be shown are Reveau Basset, nationally known painter from Dallas; Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the WTSU art department; Sam Cholson, head of the art department at Amarillo Junior College; Mrs. Bugbee, and Gort Rushmer, WTSU photographer and instructor in photography.

A top award of $300 is being offered for the best painting in the show. Prizes from $25 to $150 are being offered in three separate divisions--oil, watercolor and casein or mixed media.

Mrs. Bugbee said in addition some one, two and three-man shows may be offered, and some other prizes may be announced later.

Entry fee for the show is $4, and for the fee, up to four paintings may be entered by an artist or his agent. All entries will be passed on by the jury.

The jurying will be done with colored slides and transparencies.

Judge Angel said he doesn't believe there was any figure specified by state law in order to bring a petitioned proposition to a popular vote.

Criminal District Attorney Truett Hull, who also serves as county attorney, said he did not know the requirements of the law off-hand, but that his office had not been requested to check by the commissioners court.

The petition was originally presented by Wayne Kelso. Neither he nor any other backers of the petition have since appeared before the court to inquire into the disposition of the petition, according to Judge Angel.

C.H.S. . .

Rose Ellen Parker was named to the state all-star cast, and Rob Barnard was listed on the honorable mention cast.

Other members of the cast include Reggie Reeves, Jon Low, Charles Starnes, Jimmy Newton, Lillian Cowart and Renee Owen. Claiborn Crain was stage manager.

Nancy Davis, representing Canyon in prose reading, won third in state with her presentation. She won first in regional recently in Lubbock.

"The judge was so complimentary of our play. He said he had never seen any high school play like this. And of course the entire cast did an outstanding job," Mrs. Foster said.

"We were the talk of the contest. The students did an excellent job in their performances, and they were wonderful as far as discipline is concerned," Mrs. Foster continued.

A grant of $1,000 will be awarded a West Texas State University faculty member at the university's May 24 convocation, in recognition of excellence of teaching, President James P. Cornette has announced.

The grant will be made annually from a "Fund for Faculty Excellence," established by the WTSU Foundation and initiated after a gift of $5,000 was received from a retired faculty member. The fund has been bolstered by gifts of $1,000 each from four Amarillo firms.

Directors of the foundation established the program Wednesday, designating that the fund be used "for any purpose which might contribute to the excellence of the faculty," and that it be used primarily in "meeting institutional needs for which state funds cannot be expended."

The $5,000 gift to WTSU came from Miss Anna I. Hibbets, for more than 20 years associate professor of education at WT. Now living in Amarillo, Miss Hibbets retired in 1944.

Additional money has been contributed by the Amarillo National Bank, Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Southwestern Public Service Company, and Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation.

Dr. Cornette said that the fund would be designated primarily for the annual faculty award and for payment of travel expenses of prospective faculty members to the WTSU campus for interviews.

"It is sometimes of great importance to personally interview prospective staff members, and we do not have any means to pay expenses for these people to visit the campus," Dr. Cornette said.

The first award for excellence in teaching and research will be made at the spring convocation May 24, when more than 400 candidates are expected to receive degrees.

Winner of the award will be selected by a committee of faculty members, named to the selection group by the School of Business, School of Teacher Education, and the three divisions of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Miss Hibbets first joined the West Texas State faculty as a critic teacher in 1919. She became associate professor of primary education in 1922, maintaining this post until her retirement in 1944. She earned two degrees from George Peabody College for Teachers and attended the University of Colorado and Columbia University.

Book Marker Started Career For Dr. Tauch

A small girl duplicating a coveted book marker from a piece of chalk with her dad's pocket knife launched one of the most fabulous art careers in the history of Texas.

That girl grew up to become the internationally famous Dr. Waldine Tauch. She is here this week assembling her plaster statue of Dr. Hal Buckner.

The plaster statue was shaped by Dr. Tauch and then used as a model for a mold which in turn was used in casting of a bronze statue. The bronze work of art stands at Buckner's Boys Ranch at Burnett. Dr. Buckner founded the home for boys.

The story of Dr. Waldine Tauch is a poignant one. It is a story of the faith of a group of Brady women in the future of a little girl who just had to carve things.

Waldine Tauch was born at Schulenberg, daughter of a pioneer photographer. Her father traveled the area taking pictures.

Dr. Tauch says one of her early memories is that of helping out with the printing of her father's pictures.

Her father also was a truck farmer. "He grew some of the finest melons and vegetables," Dr. Tauch reminisces.

When she was very small the family moved to Flatonia. "That's where all my relatives are now," she said.

They later moved back to Schulenberg and her father opened a photographic studio. Waldine started to school when she was 7 years old.

One day a friend of her mother visited in the Tauch home and brought with her a book marker with the head of a beautiful lady carved on it.

"I just fell in love with it," Dr. Tauch remembers.

At school she begged a piece of thick chalk from the teacher and took it home with her. She borrowed her father's pocket knife and duplicated the book marker in chalk.

"After that I just knew I wanted to be a sculptor," she declared.

Waldine also liked to draw pictures. She was an apt student and always finished her lessons early. The teacher then would permit her to go to the blackboard and draw.

She often drew pictures portraying various holiday scenes. "I still get excited when I see a blackboard," she said. "I just want to get up there and draw something when I see one."

The Tauch family moved to a remote place about half way between Brady and Menard. There was no school for the Tauch children.

A mail hack stopped over at the Tauch home on regular runs and passengers were served meals there.

Waldine had begun modeling in clay and sandstone. Her work, which ringed the dining room, kept spectators aghast over the talent of the child artist.

One day two Brady women, passengers on the mail hack, stopped off at the Tauch place. The stop had a profound influence on American art and the life of Waldine Tauch.

One of the women was Mrs. F. W. Henderson, wife of the banker at Brady. The other was Mrs. John Shaeg, president of the Brady Tuesday Study Club.

The women were so impressed with the child's work that they prevailed upon the Tauch family to move to Brady so the club could assist in Waldine's education.

The Tauchs made the move and the women of the Tuesday Study Club were true to their word.

Right after Waldine arrived in Brady a gala event of the town's year took place. The Brady fair was staged in September.

Mrs. Henderson was in charge of two departments--art and dairying.

On the eve of the fair she arrived at the Tauch home with two pounds of butter and asked Waldine to make something from it.

The prospect was discouraging since there was no refrigeration available and September weather at Brady is hot. "You'll find a way to do something," Mrs. Henderson told the little girl and left the butter.

It was Waldine's sister who came up with an answer. She put some ice into a bag and let cold water drip on the butter while Waldine shaped a woman churning. The woman wore an old fashioned apron. It was iced and exhibited at the fair.

Waldine didn't get to go to the fair next day. She spent the day in a cotton field picking cotton. That evening as she approached her home, neighbor children ran to meet her.

"You're famous, Waldine!" they cried.

The Brady newspaper carried a story about her.

"It gave me the biggest thrill of anything that has ever been written about me," she declared.

The study club started raising a fund for Waldine's education. Members sold cakes, cookies and candy and gave fund-raising theatrical performances.

Mrs. Henderson wrote to Dr. Pompeo Coppini, a famous sculptor, who was doing the Morgan Memorial at Lexington, Ky., at the time. Dr. Coppini was impressed. He wrote to Waldine and told her to continue her studies until he could finish the Morgan Memorial and return home to San Antonio.

When the Coppinis returned to San Antonio, Waldine went there to study. She had four years of study under the famed sculptor. "I was very fortunate," Dr. Tauch relates humbly. "The club ran out of money and Dr. Coppini sort of adopted me. I became his protegee. He and his wife, a wonderful person, wanted to adopt me legally but my parents wouldn't allow that. They (the Coppinis) were like mother and father to me. They had no children of their own."

She relates that she often helped Dr. Coppini with his work but he would never allow her to finish any of it.

"He always wanted to do the finishing work himself because he wanted his stamp on it," she said. "I don't blame him. I wouldn't let him finish any of my work either."

Dr. Tauch's work became widely known and she became famous in her own right. She is listed in "Who's Who" and is known in art circles the world over.

She has contributed several pieces of her work to the Panhandle-Plains Museum here. These include Pippa Passes, Texas Ranger of Today, Dr. Buckner and others.

An unusual book marker, a piece of chalk, a lump of butter and two women stopping for refreshments at a lonely mail hack way station reshaped a little girl's life and opened the pages on a glowing chapter in the history of American art.

Senior Class Given Parties

Happy High School Seniors will be honored during the next few weeks with parties by Happy residents and organizations.

Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Meeks gave the seniors a party at their home.

Other parties are planned for the group before graduation ceremonies May 29.

Two Holsteins Top Producers

Palo Duro Raven Goldie, a three-year-old Holstein, owned by Louis G. Henders, produced 17,148 pounds of milk and 696 pounds of butterfat in 346 days.

These production figures are compared to the estimated annual output of 7,500 pounds of milk and 274 pounds of butterfat by the average daily cow in the United States.

Texas A & M University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement program.

Dr. Waldine Tauch is shown here putting together a plaster statue of Dr. Hal Buckner. Dr. Tauch contributed the statue to Panhandle-Plains Museum. Several other pieces of her statuary already has been given to the museum.

Laycock, O'Donald Get FFA Degrees

Two Canyon men were awarded honorary Future Farmers of America degrees Thursday night at the annual Parent-Son banquet.

Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of Canyon Public Schools, and Cecil O'Donald were presented the awards by high school chapter officers.

Troy Roach, parliamentarian of the local organization, was named outstanding FFA farmer by chapter members.

Chester Hales was named outstanding freshman FFA member.

Other awards given were George Cox, crop farming and livestock farming; Lee Wilcox, poultry farming and public speaking; Dean Anderson, farm mechanics and farm electrification; Troy Roach, soil and water ranching; Alec Gordon, dairy farming; and Bill Richey, farm safety.

Boys receiving the awards were judged on active participation and themes written concerning each field.

Senior Dekalb Award was presented to Marion Hicks for outstanding work done in FFA and other school activities.

Bobby Evans was given a scholarship for having the highest grade average in the chapter.

Laycock was guest speaker for the evening program. He told the young farmers and their parents the importance of a broad education in farming today.

Laycock pointed out the need for a good education in English, math, science and other fields in order to be a good farmer or rancher.

"You must have a broad knowledge in many fields including sales, language and business. You must have a background, and you must begin now to gain that background."

"Begin today with the idea of being a 'good' farmer, or whatever you want to be. But you must begin NOW. Get the knowledge and skills which will help you in future years," Laycock concluded.

The 27th annual Parent-Son banquet was held in the Canyon High School cafeteria with Bill Richey, president of the chapter, serving as toastmaster.

A get-acquainted orientation meeting for teachers, parents and next fall's first grade students will be held May 21st beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room of Canyon Elementary School.

The pre-school parent's meeting will be of vital importance to parents in helping prepare their youngsters for first days of school according to Oscar Hinger, elementary principal. "A large reason for success or failure of students depends on their being ready for school," says Hinger.

The special program will include a film strip, discussions on the subject of school, and an after meeting invitation for parents and students to visit with the first grade teachers in the classroom.

Seven first grade classes are available through the public school system for those youngsters who will observe their sixth birthday before September 1.

Library Study Being Planned

The Randall County Library Board has already gone into action on suggestions made here last week for improvement of Canyon library service.

Miss Mary Pauline Bonnie, chairman of the board, said the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce agreed to sponsor the formation of a Friends of the Library Group here and that a professional evaluation of the current and future needs of the library is being planned.

Roy Fortune of the Jaycees has been named to head a committee to get the friends group underway.

A meeting was scheduled this week to organize a Jaycee committee to go ahead with plans for the Friends of the Library group.

Miss Bonnie is scheduled to contact Miss Roselyn Shamblin, assistant librarian for the Amarillo Public Library, to ask her if she would do the evaluation of the local library. Miss Bonnie said the board plans to ask the Canyon Chamber of Commerce for any material they have dealing with projected community development.

"We will about have to have some figures estimating Canyon's future growth before any evaluator can go to work," she said.

As soon as an estimate is obtained on the cost of the evaluation, representatives of the board plan to go before the Canyon City Commission and the Randall County Commissioner's Court to ask for help in carrying out the evaluation.

"We also hope to get some donations from local clubs to help cover the expense," said Miss Bonnie.

The decisions to go ahead with plans for an evaluation and for the organization of the Friends of the Library group were made at a library board meeting last week. The meeting followed a talk in Canyon a day earlier by Charles A. Gholz, field consultant for the Texas State Library.

Gholz urged those attending his speech to work to improve the existing facilities and to plan for Canyon's future library needs.

BUYER'S GUIDE

For air conditioning service at its best, you can depend on Glenn Dorris Garage and Service Center, 13th Street and Hereford Highway.

Glenn Dorris, who has had more than 10 years of car air conditioning experience, is the local dealer for Frigiquip Air Conditioners, produced in Oklahoma City. According to Glenn, there is no better conditioner on the market.

Among its many advantages are a small, compact dash unit leaving plenty of room for a third person in the front seat; dual squirrel cage blowers with vents behind the rear seat and constant temperature control.

But perhaps the greatest feature of the unit, says Glenn, is that less maintenance is necessary to keep it running at peak performance.

Those long, hot summer months of driving are already practically here. With an air conditioner installed by Glenn Dorris Service Center, you and your family can pass those months in comfort.

Why not stop in and talk to Glenn or his son, Bobby, at Glenn Dorris Service Center, 13th and Hereford Highway, and let them install your car with comfort for this summer.

In addition to selling, installing and maintaining Frigiquip equipment, the folks at Dorris' can service any make of air conditioner. And besides, the Frigiquip people make air conditioners to fit any American-made compact automobile in addition to the regular size cars.

Of course, Glenn and Bobby can also give your car the best care available, and their general repair work is unsurpassed. No matter what your car needs, the Dorrises can provide it with the best.

A sidelight to the regular garage business carried on by Glenn Dorris is the sale of Bendix Deep Clene hand cleaner. Glenn says this special hand cleaner is the best product on the market for hand care and is especially valuable to irrigation workers whose hands get rough and chapped from being in water so much. In addition to its cleaning ability, Deep Clene has soothing ingredients for nicked or chapped hands. It is available in one or five-pound cans at Glenn Dorris, 13th and Hereford Highway.

Woman Stops Burglary Attempt With Pistol

An over priced bag of potatoes, a .32 automatic pistol, two women and quick-acting law enforcement officials worked together Friday in apprehending two men for burglary.

Guy Raymond Ray, 54, and Jerry Don Branch, 18, were charged Saturday in Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson's court with burglary by breaking.

The two men and a juvenile with the men were apprehended Friday afternoon following a frantic telephone call to the Randall County Sheriff's office by Mrs. Bob Costley.

"Calvin (Costley) he is breaking into my house!" was the frantic statement made by Mrs. Bob Costley about 1:55 p.m. Friday just before she hung up the phone and reached for a .32 automatic pistol, which was in the bedroom dresser drawer of her home.

Mrs. Costley had locked her doors and windows about 1:30 p.m. following a phone call from her mother, Mrs. Floyd J. Thomas.

"Mother called to tell me some men were driving toward my house, and she said for me to just lock the house up and not answer the door," Mrs. Costley explained.

"A man had come to my door and when I answered he tried to sell me a 25 pound bag of potatoes for $8.50. I told him Cheese and Crackers, that was too high for potatoes. He left and headed toward Virginia's home, so I just called her," Mrs. Thomas said.

Meanwhile Mrs. Costley locked the house and waited in the hall for the men to come and go.

"A man knocked on the door and then went to the other door and pounded on it. I became scared when he continued to go from door to door knocking and pounding.

"I called Calvin, (Randall County deputy and Mrs. Cost-

Camp Out Is Friday Night

An overnight camp out at the Baptist Assembly grounds, northwest of Canyon, will be held Friday, May 15, for the boys' 11-year-old Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

The class of 14 will meet at the church Friday afternoon at 5 p.m. before going to the campgrounds where they will have a campfire, cook out supper and other activities according to Ronnie Harris, teacher.

the house, because my husband has eight guns in that room.

"I walked to the door way and saw a man with his hand through the broken glass reaching for the lock.

"I told him to leave or I would shoot. He just stood and looked at me.

"Get out or I'll shoot you now" was the next command from Mrs. Costley to the intruder.

The man walked back to the car and drove off.

Trouble with the telephone at the sheriff's office was causing concern to officials. They were unable to call Mrs. Costley, but a deputy was sent to her home immediately after the first phone call.

"After the man left my house I called Calvin back and he told me someone was on his way out. I was so nervous I was just shaking," Mrs. Costley reported.

This young, attractive farm wife spoke matter-of-factly as she told of her feelings concerning the intruder.

"I have shot a gun before. I learned to shoot as a young girl but I have never shot at anyone. My husband bought the gun for me several years ago, but I have never had to use it," she said.

Lance Cox First In Car Rodeo

Lance Cox of Happy was winner of the safe-driving rodeo held recently in Happy for high school students.

Cox will compete in the regional meet in Tulia May 16-17 for a chance to attend the state meet to be held in Mesquite later this year.

Jerry Don Danner was second in the driving rodeo and Bill Vernon was third. All three boys will attend the Tulia meet.

Cox scored 348 points out of a possible 400 during the day-long contest. Written and driving skills tests were given to pick the safest driver.

The meet was co-sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Bob Costley, left, shows how she pointed a .32 automatic pistol at a man allegedly attempting to break into her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Floyd J. Thomas, right, holds a bag of potatoes which a man tried to sell to her the same afternoon. The women identified the man as Guy Raymond Ray. Ray and Jerry Don Branch were charged with burglary by breaking Saturday morning in Randall County.

Within an hour after the second call from Mrs. Costley, Amarillo policemen had apprehended the men allegedly involved in the incident.

The two men and a juvenile were brought to Randall County Jail, where they remained at press time.

The juvenile was taken before

County Judge Wayland Angel Monday. He was taken back to jail pending further investigation into the case.

Articles believed to be stolen were found in the car in which the men were riding when police stopped them, Friday. Radios, clocks, a rifle, a hatchet, a typewriter and several other articles were found in the backseat of the vehicle.

Mrs. Costley lives approximately 20 miles northeast of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas live a mile north of the Costley residence.

Members of Cub Scout Pack 131 Den 3 have built a hut for their den activities. The lean-to type structure was built onto the rear of the garage of the Cecil M. Winn home at 2406 7th Ave. Shown kneeling are Greg Winn, kn-

Farm Bureau Building Grand Opening Sunday

Grand opening of a new Randall County Farm Bureau Building will be from 2-5 p.m. Sunday, May 17.

The newly constructed building, located at 1714 Fifth Avenue, will be open to the public during the Sunday ceremonies. The 2800-square foot structure contains three offices, a conference room, a large kitchen, an assembly room, and a spacious reception area.

Construction began in October of 1963 and was completed last week. The old Farm Bureau building which had been used for nine years and is located next door to the present structure, is in the process of being torn down and moved.

Visitors to the new farm bureau site will walk through a six foot square windowed vestibule into the reception room. Mrs. Louise Knox, office secretary, will greet visitors and direct them through the building beginning with the office of Fred Olson, general agent.

The antique birch paneled walls are highlighted with soft, indirect light overhead and acoustical tile on the ceiling. The walnut desks in each office adds a touch of luxury to the building.

Guests are guided down a hallway to the office of T. J. Miller and Werner Hencheld, special agents for Farm Bureau. Next door to the special agent's office is a conference room which seats six around a long table.

Louis J. Stenbeck, staff adjutant for Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Insurance Company and Texas Farm Bureau Company, offices in the final office of the new building. Stenbeck has a 10-county area but-makes Randall County and Canyon his headquarters.

Directly across the hall from Stenbeck is an entrance to the all-electric kitchen.

"We built the kitchen large so the 4-H girls and the home demonstration women could use it in their cooking projects. We wanted to provide a place for our youngsters to meet and plan their projects," said R. B. Gist, Jr., chairman of the Farm Bureau.

Cabinet space covers three walls in the kitchen with a built-in dishwasher, disposal, a large refrigerator and an oven. A pass-through counter opens the kitchen into the 23 x 39 foot assembly room, which will seat approximately 100 persons.

The soft-beige tones used in the kitchen compliment the spice-berry haydite walls in the assembly room. Tile floors in all rooms give the building an added feeling of luxury.

In the rear of the structure, parking area will be made for staff and visitors parking. The lot next door to the new building will be converted into parking area for LaGrone Funeral Chapel, according to Jerry LaGrone.

Beautiful Tennessee Ledge stone covers the east wall of the outside of the building. Brown brick has been used for the rest of the building with three long, narrow windows added to the front of the structure.

Builders of the modern addition to Canyon are Reed Strickland and Jack Swain.

Building committee for Farm Bureau are R. B. Gist, Jr., J. A. Dietz, William A. Patke, Lewis Tucke, Melvin K. Leavitt and Louis Shembeck.

Faculty, Student Game Set

Members of the junior and senior high school faculties Friday night will clash with the high school senior boys in a faculty-student basketball game at 8 p.m. in the High School Gym.

The game is being staged to raise money for the school athletic fund. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Coaching the faculty team will be J. E. Miller, high school principal, and Huelyn Laycock, superintendent.

Eddie Poole and Jim Whinnery, both members of the state championship basketball team this year, will guide the seniors.

Any senior boy who did not participate in interscholastic league sports during the past school year is eligible to play with the student team.

Among those playing for the faculty will be Coach Allen Simpson, Coach Ned Jolly, Coach Jeep Webb, Gary Steinberger, Jerry Logan, Mark Clapp, and Jerry Yoes.

Any of the senior boys who can qualify and any faculty member can participate.

Mrs. Sweet Gives Favorite Banana Nut Cake Recipe

By Lorena Miller

A Banana Nut Cake recipe is being shared with our readers this week by Mrs. D. H. Sweet of 1306 8th Avenue.

Mrs. Sweet, mother of three, was born and raised in Arkansas at Cove where she first took an interest in poetry and was honored with being asked to compose a poem for her graduating class at Cove High School.

Her first published poem was entitled "Cove Clatter Box" and concerned activities and perspectives of the school where it was published. In recent years her jingles have been first place winners in two contests.

"I won a refrigerator and a bedroom suite for the two little jingles," says Mrs. Sweet, who lists poetry as one of her main hobby interests.

"Gardening and flowers are also favorite pastimes for my spare hours," comments Mrs.

Sweet.

In 1938, the former Miss Imogene Kemp became the bride of D. H. Sweet who was raised in Cove, Arkansas but had moved with his family to Oklahoma. The young couple returned to Oklahoma, after the wedding, where they lived and farmed for four years. Later, they moved to O'Donnell, Texas in 1942 where they farmed until 1948 when Mr. Sweet took a position with the Phillips Oil Company.

"We moved to Canyon in 1955 and when the oil company planned to transfer my husband to Borger, he just 'quit' because we liked the town so well," says Mrs. Sweet. He is presently employed as the custodian for the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University.

The Sweets are members of the Southside Baptist Church of Canyon and their three children include two daughters and a son.

Their son, Ronnie, will graduate from Canyon High School this year as the salutatorian with a 96 percent overall grade average. During high school, Ronnie has received many scholastic awards including the English award in 1960 and 1962, the algebra award in 1960-61 and the typing award last year. A member of the high school choir for two years, he was named to the all-regional choir in 1961 and has served on the student-faculty congress, been historian for the National Honor Society and in the science club this year.

"Ronnie never did care too much for athletics, but is a strong baseball fan," comments his mother. He is a part-time employee of Western Auto in Canyon and his main hobby and interest is playing lead guitar for the "Sultans", a local musical combo.

"Ronnie will enter West Texas State University this fall," says Mrs. Sweet, "and he and

Church Honors Mothers Sunday

Mother's Day honorees at the Assembly of God Church Sunday were Mrs. M. S. Keller, oldest mother, and Mrs. Myrlene Tollett, youngest mother.

The two were presented with individual gifts preceding the morning service which featured Mrs. A. J. Pettit with a message about 'Mothers'.

come to the mothers and their daughters. Mrs. Mary Womack, mother advisor for the Rainbow Girls, gave the response.

Mrs. Fern Patchin, worthy matron of the Eastern Star, was a special guest for the occasion as each girl introduced her mother.

ther.

A poem entitled "A Mother's Love" was read on the program by Angela Airhart. Singing "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" were Susan and Virginia Williamson, Susan McDonald, Joan Harmon, Janice and Sheila Shipman.

Sharon Johnson read the poem "A Recipe for a Mother" at the banquet affair. Carol Hardaway, Angela Airhart and Jeanne Tiley sang "Just a Closer Walk With Thee" and "Let There Be Peace" was sung by Willa Jane Elliott, Kay Harvey, Sharon Johnson, Sara Sims, Alice Womack, Perry Nell Mitchell, Dixie McGehee, and Barbara Wesley.

Alice Womack presented the poem "A Prayer for Peace" and Mrs. Mary Sue Eakes, chairman of the board, spoke about Grand Assembly. The program was concluded with members and guests singing the official Rainbow Song.

The salad supper banquet was prepared and served by members of the Order of the Eastern Star with approximately 45 members and guests attending. Decorations for the banquet room carried out the Peace theme with pink birdcages decorating the tables and hallway. Corsages of pink ribbon centered with a white dove of peace were presented to each mother and special guest at the affair. Pink, white and gold were used throughout the banquet room.

Chamber Of Commerce Corner

The chamber of commerce committee for the 75th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION, set up last year and headed by Joe Gidden, has been working since September 1963, and plans were announced at our board meeting last week.

This committee is still working and will try to secure dignitaries to head a big parade and possibly make an address to the huge crowd expected for the celebration. We only have a little over two months to work on this project and all should be thinking of floats for the parade; which takes a long time to construct and other ideas that will make our anniversary a greater success.

The celebration makes me think of how times have changed and the difference in the spirit of its citizen's fifty-five years ago and today. Canyon and Randall County was only 20 years old at the time it was chosen to be the site of a University, and the high calibre of citizens is proven by the facts of history written then. We are indebted to these pioneers and still have four of the donors who gave money for the location of the University, still living. They are Mr. T. C. Thompson, Mr. J. A. Guthrie, Mr. C. P. Shellnut of Canyon and Mr. W. J. Fleisher of Amarillo. Dr. J. A. Hill, President-Emeritus of West Texas State University came here in 1910 or 54 years ago, and still lives in Canyon. He participated in laying the deep and firm foundation of this institution. He brought it through two of the worst droughts in our history and two world wars.

Without his leadership, the University, Canyon and Randall County would not have been as great as it is today. We are deeply grateful to him for his many, many long hours of labor and guidance in our Community.

I would like to quote some facts of history from Dr. Hill's book, "MORE THAN BRICK AND MORTAR." On page 15 of this book, a report from the locating committee of the State Board of Education, taken from the RANDALL COUNTY NEWS, March 3, 1911. It is as follows: "After personally inspecting the sites offered by twenty-one cities and towns, and after weighing very fully and carefully the conditions of health of each place, taking into account the quantity and quality of the water, the climatic conditions, and habits of the people which affect the health, the social and religious conditions of the inhabitants; the accessibility of the places by railroad; the present and future conditions of the section to be served and the good of the State as a whole, we have unanimously agreed to locate the West Texas Normal College at Canyon City. Enclosed with this we are handing you a copy of the contract which we have made with the local committee at Canyon City, together with a bond worth at a conservative estimate one and a half million dollars, to secure the faithful performance of the contract."

The description of our quantity and quality of water, climatic conditions and good people still remains true in spite of the fact that many people in our state have a bad picture of our dust bowl days and a few bad blizzards and ice storms during our 75 years as a county. If the true picture or yearly averages could be painted, many students from all over Texas would come here to school, during the summer months especially.

Another quote from Dr. Hill's book, Canyon's proposal to the locating committee provided in part, as follows:

"That the citizen's of said town will donate a location for said school, free of charge, to a Board, as hereinafter mentioned. That the citizen's of said town will expend upon the grounds selected as the site for said school, if located at that city, the sum of at least one hundred thousand, one hundred dollars."

A list of 180 donors of Canyon's contribution of $100, 100.00 for the location of the

Mrs. L.C. Ruthart Honored Sunday

Mrs. L. C. Ruthart was presented with a single long stemmed pink rose as the oldest mother attending Mother's Day services at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Making the presentation was Ray Bible, Sunday school superintendent. Recognized as the youngest mother at the morning service was Mrs. Weldon Massey of Friona, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Taylor of Canyon.

college, taken from the original ledger kept by the citizen's committee of Canyon City, Texas and found in the archives of the college is printed in Dr. Hill's book. It is stated in this book that some business men pledged $10,000.00 and it took many of them ten years to pay off these pledges which Dr. Hill collected. If you take an average per person of the 180 donors, it would amount to over $555.00 a person. Today the ten thousand would be the equivalent of around $2,000.00. It is further stated, that drought conditions came about and these subscriptions made a strain on the economy of the community.

Canyon had a population of around 1400 people at this time and over ten percent of these pioneers invested in the future of this community. Our population is now close to 7,000 people and I wish that the same spirit existed now as did then. We need 700 instead of around 200, members, of the chamber of commerce and a lot more Indians instead of chiefs to continue the progress of this city and to see that the University will continue to serve this area and make our community a better place to live and to make a living. Let's make our 75th Anniversary Celebration a huge success July 30, 31, Aug. 1 and pay tribute to these pioneers who laid the firm foundation for a wonderful town called Canyon.

I will close with this thought: SOME CAN'T LOOK AHEAD FOR LOOKING BACK.

Benefit For Pool A Success

A sell-out crowd gathered at Happy's High School auditorium last Saturday night to hear talent from Amarillo, Canyon, Tulia and Happy perform in a 'hootenanny fun fest'.

The event, which was sponsored by the Happy Junior Chamber of Commerce, was held as a benefit project for a community swimming pool to be built in Happy. Funds raised by the program included some $350 to $400 according to Richmond Payne, Jaycee president.

A portion of the funds were raised through the Jaycee wives' concession stand which was operated after the program. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jimmy Davis of Hereford, an electric can opener; Mary Womack of Happy, an electric toothbrush; Anna B. Robinson of Happy, an electric toaster; and Marilyn Coile of Happy won the electric clock-radio combination.

Several other fund raising projects to benefit the community swimming pool are being planned according to Payne.

Noted acts appearing on the program Saturday evening were "The Sultans" an instrumental group from Canyon; an instrumental trio from Happy, "Happy Outcasts"; vocal numbers by Miss Martha Toles and Miss Linda Lewis, Happy High School students; a boys quartet and a girls trio from Tulia; a trio of girls "The Casuals" from Amarillo; and Tommy Stewart of Tulia who played and sang a song which he had written.

Rural Routes Get USDA Survey Cards

June livestock survey cards will be distributed next week by Canyon Post Office rural route carriers.

Livestock and poultry estimates will be based on the replies received from the survey cards, according to Marion Higdon, Canyon post master.

United States Department of Agriculture is supervising the survey of area livestock and poultry holdings.

Girls Appear On Television

Seven members of the Future Homemakers of America chapter from Canyon High School appeared last Saturday afternoon on Cotton John's KCNC television show.

Participating on the program were Nancy Hicks, Gayle Rea, Wanda Graham, Susan Gilham, Janie Fisher, Mary Ann Wheelock, and Marian Henson.

The girls presented the program as a report on activities from the state FHA meeting at which Miss Hicks was elected state FHA president. Miss Wheelock and Miss Henson presented musical numbers for the program.
